BACK FROM THE EAST

C. E. KIMLIN, MANAGER OF SANITARIUM, RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

C. E. Kimlin, manager of the Glendale Sanitarium, returned home Monday from the East. He left here about the end of May and went to Philadelphia, where he transacted some important business in connection with his work. "The eastern states," said Mr. Kimlin, "are busy. Pennsylvania is humming with business from one end of the state to the other. Steel mills, munitions factories, tinplate mills, manufactories of all kinds are working overtime. Orders are months in arrears and there is no evidence of any stop in this activity.

"In Pennsylvania I noticed that the old grade crossings on the railroads have been almost entirely abolished. I don't believe that I saw more than two or three grade crossings throughout the railway systems there. It was the same in Indiana, although the work of abolishing the grade crossing has not progressed so far as in Pennsylvania.

"After my stay in Philadelphia I went to Madison, Wis., to attend the convention of sanitarium officials there, June 5-10. There were more than 100 present. I met the managers of the following sanitariums: Wabash Valley, Lafayette, Ind.; Melrose, Mass.; Tacoma Park, Washington, D. C.; Portland, Ore.; Nevada, Iowa; College View, Nebraska; St. Helena, Cal.; Walla Walla, Wash.; Boulder, Colorado; Loma Linda, Cal.; Paradise Valley, Cal.; Madison, Wis.; Wichita, Kansas, Hastings, Neb., and others.

"The meeting was held in the Madison sanitarium and was attended also by the medical attendants of the various sanitariums. Among those present was Dr. Wood Comstock of Glendale Sanitarium. The gathering was largely in the nature of a 'get-together' convention of the Seventh-day Adventist institution officials. 'Conference and Co-operation' was the keynote of the addresses. Many interesting subjects were discussed. For instance 'Occupational Therapy' was carefully detailed. Many of our sanitariums are now introducing this treatment as an adjunct in the care of nervous patients. Hinsdale sanitarium, Ill., has basket work, pyrography, loom weaving and other occupations to aid in the cure of patients. It is likely that some of these will be introduced here. The paper read on this subject by Dr. J. W. Hopkins was most interesting. All those present felt the stimulus of the new ideas.

"Some of the ideas Dr. Wood Comstock and I have brought back will be introduced into the Glendale sanitarium with profit. The ideas are progressive and such as we are always seeking. Much was said of the 'Possibilities of X-ray Work in Sanitariums.' As is known the Glendale sanitarium is well equipped in this respect having an up-to-date installation of X-ray apparatus, even to the new 'coolidge' tube, which cost more than $200 and keeps a constant vacuum, thus making possible unvarying exposures.

"One of the great lessons of the convention was the necessity of uniformity of treatment, rates and other characteristics in all sanitariums. A most interesting exposition of the value of the Sanitarium Sustentation fund for the care of the sick officials of the different sanitariums was given. Nurse work and charitable work done in the cities by the nurses was discussed.

'In Madison it rained all the time I was there and was just beginning to let up when the convention broke up. The mosquitoes were as abundant as they usually are. Everything, however, looked beautifully fresh and green.

"I also visited Battle Creek, Mich., sanitarium, where I was an official at one time. I found that institution extremely busy. People were coming and going. The place was quite full. There were 72 arrivals on the first day of my visit. I found that the institution had made wonderful progress since I was last there. Like all our institutions it is keeping well up-to-date in equipment and practice. I was delighted with my visit to the east but I am delighted to get home again."

ADD NEW AUTO DELIVERY

The Tropico Mercantile Co. added a new auto delivery to their superb delivery service this morning. In spite of the cry of hard-times and poor business in Southern California the business of this concern is extremely good. The Tropico Mercantile Co. now uses two Ford delivery cars, one Studebaker delivery and a wagon delivery route. The latest addition replaced a team and wagon.

MEDICOS AT BANQUET

MISSIONARY DOCTORS OF ADVENTIST CHURCH HOLD ANNUAL GATHERING

There was a pleasing interchange of ideas regarding the medical missionary work of the Seventh-day Adventist church, at the annual banquet of the medicos of that body, Tuesday evening, June 20, at the Glendale sanitarium. This meeting is always a notable affair in the administration of the affairs of this growing association.

Fifty members were present. The large dining hall of the Sanitarium was beautifully decorated in honor of the occasion. The chef of the institution had conceived and executed one of those exquisitely cooked vegetarian dinners for which the sanitarium is justly famous. There was a pleasant reunion of old friends and a profitable interchange of new and interesting ideas.

Dr. Newton Evans of Loma Linda was chairman and toastmaster. He discharged the functions of that office with tact and knowledge. His speech concerning the work and aims of the medical missionary body of the church was appropriate and illuminating. His handling of the toasts was in good taste and brought out many important features of the work.

Dr. P. T. Magan, of Nashville, Tenn., spoke on the subject of raising funds for the new hospital in Los Angeles. His suggestions were characterized by acumen and insight.

Dr. George Thomason of Long Beach spoke on "Co-operation." He advocated that the complete united strength of the whole medical-missionary fraternity be directed to taking care of the work.

Dr. Parrett also spoke on various features of the work and gave a graphic picture of what is being done everywhere throughout the church to spread knowledge and enlightenment.

Elder J. A. Burden of the Paradise Valley, Cal., Sanitarium, gave many interesting reminiscences of the Sanitarium work and of the good that is has accomplished. In every way the story of the work showed development, up-to-date methods and general progress.

G. A. R. POST TO MEET

The N. P. Banks post of the Grand Army of the Republic will meet along with the Relief Corps, at the G. A. R. hall, Glendale avenue and Ninth street, Friday, June 23. This will be an all-day meeting. It will begin at 11:30 a. m. A full attendance of members is urgently desired. All comrades who may be visiting in the neighborhood are invited to be present. Dinner will be served at the close of the forenoon session.

After dinner there will be given an interesting program which will be a birthday celebration. Comrade Forest Jourdan will be present and will play several selections on his violin. Miss Weiler will give several of her popular readings. Elizabeth Mottern, the 12-year-old daughter of the Rev. R. W. Mottern, whose musical genius has ere now delighted the members of the post, will sing several ballads in her delightful manner.

This is styled a "birthday celebration" because everyone who has a birthday in June will be considered a guest of honor.

I. O. G. T. MEETING

The Good Templars have been quite active recently and are making plans for work in the future when the Grand lodge meets in Los Angeles. The local society met Friday last, in the I. O. O. F. hall. There was a large attendance. In the absence of Mr. Arthur G. Lindley, the chief templar, J. P. Fansett, past chief templar, presided. An excellent program was given. The society meets again on the first Friday in July, July 7. Arrangements are now being made to hold the annual picnic of the society at Brookside park, Pasadena. The Pasadena lodge is making arrangements for the affair also.

REAL SUMMER WEATHER IN IMPERIAL VALLEY

C. E. Peck returned Thursday morning of this week from a ten days' visit with his son, near Brawley, in the Imperial valley. He says that the temperature varies from 112 to 120 degrees each day between 10:00 a. m. and 4:00 in the afternoon, although the nights are fairly cool. The ranchers have lost many hogs and chickens from the intense heat—but the crops as a rule will be good this year.

SITUATION IN MEXICO GROWN WORSE

CARRANZISTAS ARE STILL MOVING NORTHWARD TO ATTACK AND FEELING IN COUNTRY IS HOSTILE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—Advices from Mexico state that the situation is steadily growing worse. The populace is hostile and the feeling of hostility is increasing. The effect of the clash between Gen. Gomez' troops and the American force, in which Gen. Gomez was killed, has been to excite the Mexicans to the point of frenzy. Exaggerated accounts of the affair are being spread throughout the country. It is stated that the American army has been defeated and that many prisoners have been made. The fact that the American force consisted of 500 men and the Mexican of 5000 is being carefully concealed.

VOLUNTEERS COMING IN SLOWLY

RECRUITING HAS BEEN SLOW AND MAJORITY OF COMPANIES HAVE NOT REACHED FULL STRENGTH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SACRAMENTO, June 22.—Adjt.-Gen. C. W. Thomas stated today that it would be impossible to say what would be done with the California militia as yet. Many of the companies, especially in the northern counties, had not yet been recruited up to their regular strength. The force that is now ready may be sent away at any moment as their presence on the border would be reassuring.

MORE TROOPS WANTED ON BORDER

SECRETARY BAKER ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT CALIFORNIA, MISSOURI AND KANSAS MILITIA WOULD ENTRAIN FOR BOUNDARY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—Every nerve is being strained here in the war department for the purpose of getting troops to General Funston immediately. The necessity of having additional troops on the border is patent to every official. Preliminary mobilization will be dispensed with. The militia of California, Missouri and Kansas will be sent away immediately. They will form a body of about 8000 men.

MEXICANS RESENTED AMERICAN DEFIANCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MEXICO CITY, June 22.—It is stated here officially that it was Gen. Pershing's deliberate ignoring of Gen. Trevino's instructions that the American troops should not advance southward, eastward or westward that was the cause of the battle at Carrizal. The official report of the battle states that the first encounter of the Mexicans and the Americans took place Sunday, June 18.

WITH THE VIRTUOSI

MELICENT VIRDEN ENTERTAINS FORMER MUSICAL ASSOCIATES AT HER HOME

In honor of a number of colleagues with whom she was associated in the music life of Berlin and Vienna, Miss Melicent Virden entertained at her home on Mira Loma avenue, Tropico, Tuesday evening. The home was a bower of roses and spring blossoms and subdued lights during the performance of the various musical numbers lent to the attractiveness of the evening.

One of the most notable members of the company was Franklyn Williams, of Toronto, Canada, a gifted violinist who has lately come to Tropico for the summer months. He is a pupil of Max Beudix in New York and later during his student days, under Tevcik in Vienna, played with all the greatest orchestras in the European capitals. Another noted violinist present was Jaime Overton, who delighted the company with numerous numbers, including Theme and Variations in A Minor, Joachim, Devil's Trill Sonata, Romanze, Wilhemj's and several Kreisler numbers.

Gertrude Cohen, one of the most talented pianists of Los Angeles, gave a number of modern French selections of Rhene Baton and Liadow, the Russian Oscar Rosbach, who lately won the first prize offered by the Matinee Musical club in composition, played his Scherzo, a complicated work in 5-4 rhythm.

Bessie Chapin, violinist, played "La Precieuse" of Kreisler and "Liebescene" of Victor Herbert.

A very talented soprano singer of Tropico, Lenore Allen, also contributed to the modern note of the program by introducing to the company a most wierd and sombre group by Sibelius, the Finnish born artist. These songs were especially attractive, being "Dark Roses" and "Lassie." Miss Virden played the Beethoven Rondo from Sonate, Opus 26, and the Tarantelle from the Chopin Sonate in B Minor.

Another talented pianist present was Mrs. Carter, of Hollywood, who was also a Leschetizki pupil in Vienna during the same period as Miss Cohen and Miss Virden. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart of Tropico, Benj. Vinton and Virden Bashore of Los Angeles, Mrs. Howard Williams of Toronto, Dr. Joseph J. Carter of Hollywood, and Pauline Spyker of New Orleans.

After the musical program refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed till a late hour.

READING CIRCLE

Tudor Shotwell of Cincinnati (who will be with the circle for two months) and Miss Ina Johnson.

Topics for consideration, read from Kate Douglas Wiggin's delightful book, "Children's Rights," and discussed at length by the members, were, Children's Plays, Children's Playthings and Children's Reading. Next week the members are to bring to the circle a list of the books that most influenced them in childhood, and left a lasting impression.

Miss Mattie Belle Provolt, who is a well-known kindergartner of Glendale, was present yesterday and cared for the little people under the trees. They had story-telling, and played games and had a happy time. Next week Miss Provolt plans to take up some of the kindergarten occupations in addition to the stories and games.

CHURCH WEDDING

MISS MYRTLE HARRISON AND MR. JAMES MACDONALD ARE MARRIED

Glendale was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday evening, June 21, when Miss Myrtle Harrison and Mr. James Macdonald were united in holy matrimony. The impressive ceremony took place at the Gospel Tabernacle on Chestnut street, about fifty friends of the young couple being present. The church was very appropriately decorated, white flowers and greenery forming a very pretty setting for the happy event. Two large screens with handsome rugs and potted ferns were used around the altar where the young couple knelt during the ceremony. While Mrs. A. J. Harrison, sister-in-law of the bride, played the wedding march the bridal party entered the church, the ladies of the party coming down one side aisle to the front while the gentlemen came down the opposite aisle, meeting at the altar. First came the bridesmaids and ushers, Misses Grace Gogerty and Minnie Matthiesson, of Highland Park, cousins of the bride, and Messrs. Alex Macdonald of Glendale, brother of the groom, and Mr. Clifford Matthiesson of Highland Park, cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids were charming in gowns of blue silk, carrying arm bouquets of coreopsis.

Following the bridesmaids came the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Bicheno, gowned in yellow silk and carrying coreopsis. The best man, Mr. Archie J. Harrison, followed the ushers and joined the maid of honor at the altar. Preceding the bride came little Miss Henrietta Dietrich bearing the ring on a white satin pillow. The bride was beautiful in a gown of white satin francaise with full court train and regulation veil, carrying a shower bouquet of white rose buds, white sweet peas and maiden hair fern. The bride and groom knelt at the altar throughout the prayer and when the impressive ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Geo. W. Davis had been completed, the entire bridal party left the church by the center aisle.

Following the ceremony at the church the guests all repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Harrison, 1460 West Park avenue. The various rooms had been decorated in blue and gold, a unique and beautiful color combination carried out in the costumes of the bridesmaids. Here congratulations were showered upon the happy pair and a full course turkey dinner was served to the large company of guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald will be at home to their friends at 1439 Lomita avenue after July 21. Mr. Macdonald is associated with the Edison Electric company of Los Angeles.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1916

KEEPING PLEASURE GROUNDS CLEAN

C. G. Gillespie, director of the bureau of sanitary engineering, at the instance of the California State Board of Health, states that sanitation in the mountains has received little or no attention in the past, as everyone is well aware. He says that with the increased numbers of vacationists enjoying summer outings in the mountains there has come increased danger of the development of unsanitary conditions, the purity of mountain streams being one of the chief sources of danger, from the public health standpoint.

It is true that one often hears as an excuse for pernicious stream pollution that "running water purifies itself." As a matter of fact it is not the running of the water but the quiescence and light that effect its greatest improvement, while travel serves to carry virulent danger a long distance from the point of contamination before the virulence is gone.

The law is plain regarding the prevention of pollution of drinkable streams. It is a misdemeanor to violate this law. With a public more appreciative of the benefits of improved sanitation and with increased facilities for the administration of the law in refractory violations, prospects are bright for the same greatly improved aesthetics and sanitation throughout the pleasure grounds of the State as have been found conducive to healthfulness and happiness in rural America.

Until recent years the importance of careful observation of sanitary regulations in the more remote sections not easily reached by train, has been deplorably disregarded. With the advent of the automobile there is hardly a mountain glen that is now inaccessible. This sudden change makes necessary a change in sanitary methods. Every piece of carelessness by which pollution can be carried into a running stream is potentially a crime against life when so many are bound to be affected. Typhoid fever convalescents, for instance, could by careless handling of a camp leave a trail of sickness and perhaps death in their path through the mountains on a convalescing trip.

The United States government through its Forest service and the State Board of Health call attention to this danger. The streams are being placarded with warnings and the public is warned through such articles as this, "Leave your camp as you would like to find it. Burn or bury all refuse. Keep the pleasure grounds of America clean."

THE FORESTS OF CALIFORNIA

According to the California Forest Protective association the forest area of California is approximately sixteen million acres, of which eleven million acres belong to the government and five million acres to private owners. Of this area there is a stand of merchantable timber of approximately 300 billion feet, of which one-third is owned by the government and two-thirds by private owners. This is the supply of raw material for the lumbering industry and other forest products of the State.

The lumber industry is carried on by 225 sawmills scattered throughout the forest regions of the State and bringing the benefits of industry and employment to many small communities. According to the census of 1910 these sawmills employed 25,000 men and paid fifteen million dollars annually in wages. Investigations made by the United States Forest service show than more than 70 per cent of the value of all forest products is paid in wages and at least 15 per cent is paid for materials, supplies, taxes, etc.

The total production of lumber in California decreased from 1,185,000,000 board feet in 1914 to 1,002,000,000 board feet in 1915. In 1906 the total production was 1,283,500,000 board feet, since which time the production has decreased to approximately 1,000,000,000 feet in 1915. While the annual output of lumber has steadily decreased the average selling price of lumber at the mills has also decreased from $15.11 per thousand in 1905 to $14.79 in 1914. During the same time the cost of production on account of higher wages increased from $11.05 to $12.95 per thousand.

In 1914 the amount of redwood cut was 425 million feet, while in 1915 the amount was 355 million feet. This was a decrease of 70,000,000 feet or more than 16 per cent. In 1914 the production of western white pine, Douglas fir, sugar pine, white fir, spruce, cedar, western hemlock, oak, ash and other kinds of lumber was 760 million feet and in 1915 the production was approximately 647 million feet, showing about the same decrease as redwood. Redwood leads in the production of the State. It produces from 40 to 75 per cent of "clear lumber." The redwood is indigenous to California and except for a few stunted trees in Japan is found in no other country. The trees of the Sequoia are the oldest and the largest known.

PANAMA CANAL AND SAN PEDRO

Years before the Panama canal was opened it was prophesied that the effect it would have on the Pacific coast of the United States would be enormous. It was prophesied that every city from San Diego to Seattle would feel the stimulus of the new life that would flow through the waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific. When the canal was opened the very first touch of the new conditions was felt in every one of the Pacific coast cities. Then came the war in Europe, which has thrown back for an indefinite time the wonderful new development of the Pacific coast.

Notwithstanding this drawback it is interesting to note that San Pedro, the port of Los Angeles, which has a broad harbor, protected by a breakwater more than two miles long, built by the United States government at a cost of $3,000,000, increased its tonnage of vessels entering the harbor from 356,371 tons in 1902 to 2,759,274 tons in 1914 and has vastly increased that tonnage since the Canal has been opened. The value of the tonnage entering San Pedro in 1914 up to the close of the fiscal year in June, was $80,000,000.

There are now completed more than 6000 feet of municipal wharves with others in contemplation. There are also completed more than 3800 feet of freight sheds, 100 feet wide, together with necessary rail terminals and paved streets. There are also 9626 feet of wharves operated by railroad companies, 9060 feet operated by private wharf companies and 6180 feet by lumber companie.

It may be a few years before the full benefits of the Panama canal on such ports as San Pedro will become visible; but when the war in Europe is over, when the Mexican embroglio is settled; when this country is no longer in danger on the Pacific coast by reason of unpreparedness, there will be such a growth of commerce and wealth as will transfer the balance of trade from the Atlantic to the Pacific. There is no doubt that the struggle for the hegemony of the Pacific will go on daily until one country or another has gained the supremacy for which they are at present striving. That the United States should lead in that magnificent ocean is what all desire and if it does it will be greatly owing to the Panama canal and to the harbors of the Pacific.

KEEP CHURCH IN GOOD REPAIR

One of the best advertisements for church denominations is for the members of those churches to keep their buildings in excellent repair. The church that is unpainted, and otherwise unkempt in appearance, is indicative of the fact that the religious interest is at a discount in that church organization. The horseman who is a fancier of horses will keep his horses well fed and well groomed. The churchman who loves his church will keep the place of worship in good repair. All churches should be at least kept in as good shape as the average residence. Look about Gelndale and see if this is the case, and if not why not?

ASTORIA TO BE GREAT HARBOR

At the mouth of the Columbia river a curious and interesting work, begun in 1885, is now nearing completion. Miles of trestles and piling stretch far out into the ocean, forming jetties which are to free the region from sandbars. Already a seven-mile barrier has been erected on the south side of the channel, and a shorter one to the north is now receiving finishing touches. Interesting views of these breakwaters accompany an article in the June Popular Mechanics Magazine. The space between piles is filled with rock, the material being carried out over the trestles by means of dump cars on a narrow-guage railroad. Nearly 9,000,000 tons of rock will be used in the whole project, the placing of which, together with other expenses, represents an expenditure of $15,500,000. The port of Astoria, Ore., situated eight miles from the mouth, will be made one of the largest fresh water harbors in the world at the final completion of the work. The river is about six miles wide, the city possessing a protected harbor 20 miles long. Dredges have been installed to assist currents created by the jetties in keeping the channel free from sand accumulations.

WIRELESS PHONES IN SPAIN

A company has been organized in Spain for operating wireless telephone systems in Spanish cities. As soon as possible the system will be wired so as to connect Spanish vessels at sea with Spanish possessions in Africa.

It is proposed to erect wireless stations at Cordova, Sevile, Cadiz, Huelva, and twenty-nine other places. Spain will thus have the credit of being one of the pioneer developers of wireless telephony.

RE-MADE MATCHES

The Japanese devote much thought and inventive genius to economy of resources and the elimination of waste. For example, matches which have been partly used are carefully gathered by women, children and other workers and taken to a factory in Tokyo where they are redipped in phosphorus.

The industry has grown to such magnitude that a large proportion of the matches ordinarily sold have been lighted at least once. Recovering them from the streets, eating houses, and other public places is an industry in which the poor may engage, and furnishes an excellent example of economy in small things.

NATURAL BREAD

A new method of making bread, recently adopted in Italy, has proved a great success. It is found that 300 pounds of grain produces 400 pounds of what is termed natural bread.

The grain is sifted and washed and then left forty-eight to sixty hours in a warm place. It germinates and begins to sprout, and when this process has gone far enough, the grain is crushed in a mixer and made into dough and is passed into the oven. The natural bread is grayish in color with an agreeable odor, and is said to have much higher nutritive properties than white bread. Those who have tried it like it better than the ordinary bread, it is said.

HAWAII'S MUSICAL INSTRUMENT

The ukulele, Hawaii's national musical instrument, is attaining quite a wide popularity in the United States, especially on the Pacific coast. A California music company has received orders for 1,000 of the instruments which it has been unable to fill. A single order of this house to a Honolulu manufacturer was for one hundred ukuleles.

Makers of musical instruments outside of Hawaii do not seem to be able to gain the knack of making these instruments to compete in sweetness with those made by the Hawaiian workmen.

A STRENUOUS FAITH

Those people who are complaining that faith is not easy in these our times, says the "Christian Guardian," should remember that faith is not intended to be particularly easy in any time. It is a strenuous exercise of the soul, and the man who hasn't enough of it—strong, vigorous, conquering—for strenuous times has hardly enough for any time. Faith is intended for testing, just as the cable is made for strain. The chain that holds the anchor was not forged for fine weather; the man who made it had the storm in view. The faith that is the product of a merely easy-going disposition or an optimistic temperament is not worth calling Christian faith. Christian faith is something that God makes to grow in the soul of a man who exercises himself by his grace in strenuous, noble living. It is not a gift for the merely pious, who think lovely thoughts and dream life away in uselessness. It is born of the discipline of service and hardship and struggle and doubt, it grows on rugged soil, it roots strike down deep, it ought to hold in the day of great testing.

LINDSAY-McCURDY

A wedding of great interest to a large number was solemnized in St. Paul's church this morning at 8 o'clock, when Margaret Jean McCurdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Waddell McCurdy of 1710 Fair Oaks avenue, Glendale, Cal., was united in marriage to Mr. Leon Walter Lindsay, travelling passenger agent of the C. P. R. Rev. S. H. Prince officiated. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. John Strachon, of Rockingham, looked particularly handsome in a suit of champagne Monks cloth and hat of black satin. Her bouquet was of pale pink and mauve sweet peas with a shower of lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Mary Brookfield, gowned in rose silk poplin suit, white hat and carrying a bouquet of pale pink roses. Mr. Bruce Burpee of Montreal was best man.

The wedding marches were beautifully rendered by Mr. F. N. Clarke, organist of St. Paul's, and, though no invitations were issued, the church was well filled, the bride being one of the most popular young ladies of Halifax.

A large and costly collection of wedding gifts were received by the bride including a number of cheques. The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum bar set with diamonds and pearls.; to the bridesmaid, a pearl and sapphire pin.

Amid showers of good wishes and confetti, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay left on the morning train for a trip to Boston and New York, after which they will spend two weeks camping at Milford. Among those present at the ceremony was the groom's sister, Mrs. Gilmore, of Moncton.—Halifax, N. S., Daily Echo.

The guests were: Lorraine Mitchell, Emily Ellias, Lillian Ellias, Mabel Smith, Lucille Parker and Eula Richardson.

GLENDALE CITY PARKINGS

The question of who is responsible for keeping up the parkways in front of vacant lots in Glendale is one that is receiving the consideration of thoughtful citizens. It would seem that the only object of a parkway is to set apart a space between the sidewalk and the curbing that may be beautified. If this space is left in an untidy condition it would be better not to have any space between sidewalk and curbing. On many streets in Glendale the parkways are very unsightly. One illustration of this is the parkway on the west side of Brand boulevard, between Third and Second streets. The surface of the ground in this parkway is very irregular, there being at some places high elevations that were caused by the piling of dirt on the parkway at the time of the improvement of the street or the installation of lighting standards. To the resident of Glendale this condition may become so common that he does not notice the unkempt appearance of the parkway, but to the stranger who visits our city, the pearance must be very unsightly and if Glendale is to have a good name abroad all parkways should be put in better condition either by the property owner or by the city. Brand boulevard from the north city limits to Sixth street is substantially paved as is also Broadway from Central avenue to Glendale avenue. Men are employed to sweep the debris from the streets daily and while all of this care is being taken why not spend a little time in putting the parkways in presentable shape?

OVERDOING BUSINESS

The overdoing of business in a city is sure to cause a reaction that is against the best business interests of a city. In the past three years there have been a dozen or more stocks of merchandise placed in store buildings in Glendale only to be closed out in a few weeks on account of lack of patronage. The persons making these business ventures have reported a loss ranging from $100 to $1000. If the average business man had been consulted as to the advisability of these parties engaging in business he would have considered their best interests and advised them to stay out. It gives a city a bad name to constantly have business firms closed out of business, and there is no need of this if there is a little precaution used on the part of real estate agents who for the sake of getting a few dollars commission on a deal misrepresent conditions to a person looking for a business location.

It should be the purpose of a city to build for permanency, and there is nothing that will promote the general welfare of the city more than to have substantial business men occupying the store buildings of a city. The firm that engages in business as an experiment and sells an inferior class of merchandise and is financially unable to guarantee anything is a detriment to the community in which it is doing business. There are openings in Glendale for a few wide-awake business concerns—those who thoroughly understand the business in which they are engaging and those who have the capital to successfully finance the undertaking, but there is no room at the present time for the man who is experimenting and has neither money or good business sense.

CHOCOLATES AS PRIZES

On or before the 30th of June should be sent to Headquarters, Garden Society, 1111 W. Broadway, the essays or compositions written by children upon the bird baths placed in their yards and the birds that came to them. Several very nice little essays have already been sent in. One hundred and seventy-seven children in Glendale put out bird baths within the past three weeks, so there must be many young people who will write about them. A box of chocolates to the girl and a box of chocolates to the boy writing the best accounts.

Sometimes it takes several weeks for the birds to find out the baths and to summon up enough courage to use them; so don't be disappointed if the birds don't come at once to your baths. Just have patience, and watch quietly. Between five and seven o'clock in the evening seems to be a favorite time for birds to drink. Of course if you have a cat about the yard you can scarcely expect the birds to fly around; in that case the bird bath should be placed high, out of the reach of pouncing cats and kittens.

The four essays ranking next after the two best will be published in the Glendale Evening News; I am sure you will be proud to see your letters in print, and to know that so many hundreds of people will read them.—NANNO WOODS.

MONEY PLENTIFUL

People who have had the opportunity of witnessing in Los Angeles this week, the many thousands of Knights Templar from all parts of the United States and the thousands upon thousands of dollars spent in entertaining them are impressed with the fact that this is not a poverty-stricken nation but that there is an abundance of money. Consider for a minute the enormous sum paid for transportation by these distinguished visitors, also consider the extra expense they have been to to prepare themselves for making this visit and the amount of money that is paid to hotels, restaurants and street railways while in Los Angeles. All this goes to show very conclusively that this is a land of plenty. Add to the above expenditures the thousands of dollars spent by the people of Los Angeles for decorations and entertainment purposes, which is further evidence that our grand and magnificent country has not gone broke.

THE VALUE OF A TAPER

One night a man took a little taper out of a drawer and lighted it, and began to ascend a long, winding stair.

"Where are you going?" said the taper.

"Away high up," said the man; "higher than the top of the house where we sleep."

"And what are you going to do there?" said the taper.

"I am going to show the ships out at sea where the harbor is," said the man. "For we stand here at the entrance to the harbor, and some ships far out on the stormy sea may be looking out for light even now."

"Alas! no ship could ever see my light," said the little taper, "it is so very small."

"If your light is small," said the man, "keep it burning brightly, and leave the rest to me."

Well, when the man got up to the top of the lighthouse—for this was a lighthouse they were in—he took the little taper, and with it lighted the great lamps which stood ready there with their polished reflectors behind them. And then the bright light flashed out over the waters and the ships outside the harbor were guided thereby so that they entered safely in.

You think your little light of small account, but can you not see what God may do with it? Shine—and leave the rest to him. For our capacity we are not responsible, but for the way in which we use our abilities God will hold us to a strict account. —Selected.

DISCOVERED!

The kindly old squire was giving a little treat to the village school children, says the American Boy. He stepped on to the platform and announced, with a beaming smile:

"Now I am going to perform certain actions and you must guess what proverb they represent. The boy or girl who succeeds first will receive a quarter."

That did it. Instantly every eye was fixed on him.

First of all, the old gentleman lay down on the platform. Then one man came forward and tried in vain to lift him. Two others came to his aid, and between them they raised the squire, who was rather portly.

The actions were meant to represent the motto "Union is strength." When they had finished, the squire stepped forward and asked if any child had solved the puzzle.

At once a grubby hand shot up and an eager voice squeaked:

"Let sleeping dogs lie."

LOVE AND SERVICE

Men and women are often transformed by service. One thing which makes a mother's life glorious is her unselfish devotion to her child. Love makes her accept every discipline which toil and helpfulness involve. Those who admire lives worth while can only imitate them by service, which develops such lives. Every teacher gets far more out of her preparation of the lesson than she gives to the pupil. Every task well done increases our capacity to do other tasks larger and better.

There is no happiness in having and getting, but only in giving; half the world is on the wrong scent in the pursuit of happiness.—Henry Drummond.

Prof. and Mrs. Frank Leverett of Ann Arbor, Mich, are visiting for a couple of weeks at the home of Mrs. W. J. Hornby.

I. H. Mulvey returned Thursday from a week's trip to Seattle, Wash.

The members of the Presbyterian church had a most enjoyable picnic at Santa Monica canyon.

Mrs. M. G. Hannaman, who has been seriously ill for a couple of weeks past, is considerably improved at this writing.

W. S. Walker and family are pleasantly spending a vacation at Matilija Hot Springs.

Class Day Exercises

Class exercises and the Senior class play, "The Senior," were the centers of attraction for all interested in High school events, last Thursday evening. Donald Barager greatly amused those present by reading the "Class Will."

In behalf of the Senior class, Walter Story then presented the school with thirty volumes of fiction for the school library. The chief event of the evening, however, was the class play, "The Senior," which was not only appropriate but was presented in a most creditable manner. The characters and the parts delineated were as follows:

Gordon Wain Wright, the Senior.. ..... Edgar Boss
Perry Spencer.....Walter Story
"Pug" Collins.....Frank Trapani
"Nick" Mesde.....Hugh Pomeroy
Seniors
"Tommy" Thompson, a Sophomore ..... Glen Trout
"Dub" Duffield, the debater..... ..... Lanier Walker
Beane, the Freshman....Lyman Kanst
Eleanor Forbes, a popular girl..... ..... Hilda Knapp
Violet, "a product of the University" .....Golda Swaim
Gertrude Spencer, Spencer's sister ..... Juanita Malone
Mrs. Lee, Eleanor's aunt..... ..... Marie Harris
Miss Jones, a Lakeville girl..... ..... Alva Palmer
Miss White, visiting Lakeville..... ..... Marie Harris
Mike, a lunch hustler..Victor Britton
Jean, chauffeur.....Victor Britton
Class Song .....Hilda Knapp

Between the acts vocal and instrumental music was given as follows: Male quartette, "Just a Little Quaker Gown in Quaker Town"—Donald Barager, Glenn Barcome, Julius Davenport and Lee Shelton. The boys were in fine voice and were recalled three times by the appreciative audience.

Piano duet by Misses Myrtle Pollock, Katherine Reid, Marjorie McLaughlin and Myrtle Pogue. Piano duet by Mrs. Ralph Lovejoy, Misses Alva Palmer, Ethel Pettitt and Mellie Thrasher. Both these numbers were finely rendered. The excellent program concluded with the class song, written by Miss Hilda Knapp.

Commencement

The Seventh Anual Commencement exercises of the Burbank Union High school were held in the High school auditorium, Friday evening, June 16. The commencement address was given by Dr. James Henry McLaren, of Pasadena, and was a masterly talk that was an inspiration to the outgoing class. The evening's program was completed by a violin solo by Miss Genevieve Robison, a short talk by Prof. M. M. Livingston and the presentation of diplomas by W. E. Kirkpatrick, president of the board of trustees.

Chas. Malone and two sons left Monday morning for Patterson, Cal., where they will spend a few days looking over property interests.

Thomas Story and son, Walter, went to Bishop, Cal., Tuesday morning of this week, where they will spend a month's vacation.

Victor Lamier, of near Lankershim, had the misfortune to have his pumping plant burned Sunday evening. It is supposed that a passing autoist threw a cigar or cigarette near enough the plant to cause the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lane were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rocka Plantamura, of Crammercy Place, Los Angeles, Sunday, at dinner, after an enjoyable day at Redondo beach.

Miss Winnie McQuire is assisting in Walker's Department store during the summer.

Knapp-Hoist Nuptials

The month of June wouldn't really be June without its quota of weddings and one of the prettiest of the season was the marriage of Martha Knapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Knapp, to John Russell Hoist, son of Mrs. O. A. Kendall, at the beautiful home of the bride's parents, one-and-a-half miles south of town, on Magnolia avenue, Wednesday evening of this week. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Cordys of Los Angeles. Mrs. Hoist is a most popular young lady and has spent practically her whole life in this vicinity. The groom also has many friends here, and is instructor at the Los Angeles Military Academy.

Trustees' Meeting

A regular meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Burbank was held at the city hall Tuesday afternoon, June 20, there being present Trustees W. A. Blanchard, president; E. S. Hogle, J. W. IMPROVED TELEGRAPHY

A Norwegian named Frederick Dahl has recently patented in several countries a system of transmission of messages which seems to be unlimited as far as its capacity is concerned, for the reason that messages may be sent simultaneously without interfering with each other in any way. The details have not been announced, but it is a combination of electricity and photography.

The system has been examined by noted authorities in electric transmission, who pronounce it one of the most remarkable inventions, in connection with telegraphy, of recent times. It is said that in all probability it will be instrumental in decreasing the cost of transmitting messages.
